WOMAN'S BEAUTY NO SECRET

It all lies in the care she bestows up on herself and in keeping at bay those dread ills peculiar to her sex. The flashing eye, the elastic step and the clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. The distressed expression, lassitude, headaches and mental depression are only the tell-tale symptoms. Women so troubled should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from the roots and herbs, and restore their health to a normal condition.

PARTY FOR MRS. HILL

To introduce her cousin, Mrs. Hugh J. Hill, Jr., who recently came here from Greenville to make her home, Mrs. Clarence Daniel entertained a party of young maids and matrons who included the Wednesday Club, yesterday afternoon. The home on Alabama street was decorated in clusters of pink gladioli in tall vases, and sweet peas in low bowls. Without any formal ceremony the guests were received and entertained by the hostess.

The attractive guest of honor wore for the occasion a pretty afternoon costume of flesh georgette combined with lace. Assisting Mrs. Daniels in entertaining were Mrs. V. K. Simpson, Miss Glenna King, and Mrs. C. L. Green. Tutti Frutti cream and rosettes, pineapple and tomato sandwiches, crabapple cheese balls and iced tea were the refreshments.

In addition to the Wednesday Club, the following were guests: Miss Kate Griffin, of Knoxville; Mrs. Fred Paxton and her mother, Mrs. Culton, of Knoxville; Mrs. G. K. Hebb, of Michigan; Mrs. Walter L. Hitt, of Owensboro, Ky.; Mrs. Adamson H. Hitt, Mrs. Ed Paxton, Mrs. L. S. Crosby, of Abingdon; Miss Margaret Baumgardner, Miss Eleanor Seneker, Miss Helen Wallace, Mrs. Luthen Hodge, Mrs. Herbert King, Mrs. Richard F. Hays, Mrs. Alice Daniel and Mrs. J. M. King.—Bristol Herald-Courier.

Closing Day of Teachers' Institute

Friday was the last day of the Teachers' Institute. Following is the program for the day's session:

Singing—"I Need Thee Every Hour."

Devotional exercises by Dr. Powell who based his discourse on a clause of Psalms 27: "One thing have I desired; that will I seek after."

Prof. Burleson, of the East Tennessee State Normal School, spoke on "The Teaching of the Classics." Prof. Burleson said that the teacher must know his subject; must know how to present it, and must love it; and that enthusiasm is the secret of success.

One of the most interesting things of the week was his teaching of Holmes' "The Chambered Nautilus." Miss McLain was heard in vocal numbers, "Rosalie" and "I Passed By Your Window."

The hour given to the Club girls was much enjoyed. Their part of the program was indeed wholesome and consisted of club songs; Famine Pantomime from the story of Hiawatha; a play illustrating the health side of club work; duet and comic song.

Mrs. C. W. Allen was heard in an announcement in the interest of the work of the State War Work Committee.

Dr. Powell, returned missionary from India, was next introduced by Prof. Duggins. Dr. Powell told about his landlady as to its development due to the caste system so dominant there, and closed with a touching picture of India's thirst for God.

Friday Afternoon.
The first address of the afternoon was delivered by Mr. C. W. Dobson whose subject was "Patriotism."

Singing of America.
Appointment of committees by Prof. L. E. Easterly, President of the Association.

Address—Pres. S. G. Gilbreath, of East Tennessee State Normal School; subject: "Why Public Schools?"

The speaker answered this question by saying: (1.) that the public school is the only thing that can eradicate illiteracy and that stands for the education of every individual.

(2.) Because the State needs educated citizens.

(3.) Because homes need better parents.

(4.) Because industry needs educated workers.

Announcements as to the opening of schools by Mr. M. M. Susong.

Report of committee on resolutions by Prof. A. C. Duggins.

Report of committee on nominations by Prof. J. M. Harold.

The officers for the following year are as follows: President, A. C. Duggins; Vice-President, L. D. Hendrix; Secretary, Carrie Knipp; Assistant Secretary, Wayne Luttrell.

Closing remarks by retiring President.

BASE BALL DOPE AND OTHER STUFF

The Dopeist was nursing a grouch all day yesterday on account of not being invited to the spread at East End Park, and thought he had better cool off before putting out anything. But, say, don't you think the Treasurer of the Club—the man who handles the money—should have been invited along with our smiling and good looking President? The excuse handed in to the Dope writer, was that the fair fans thought he would be too busy nursing the baby to come to the banquet. Of course this writer never gets hungry, but he occasionally feels like eating. If all the stories that are being circulated are true, there was some spread. We don't believe anything we hear—the proof of the pudding is the eating—as the Dopeist did not get even a smell, he refuses to believe that there was anything special set out. We put the fair fans on guard, that we will try to hand you something through the dope columns to even the score.

We regret being forced to call attention to a little event that happened at the base ball banquet that came very near causing a bit of embarrassment. It seems that Big Aleck, not being content to cover the whole territory from left field to right field, in the chicken department, was attempting to cover from third to first in the pastry game when High and Handsome called the turn just as Aleck was digging in for first, hands outstretched and mouth wide open. This same Hi, firmly but gently, let it be known that all territory around first, in the pastry department, would be looked after with great eclat by himself. This ended the argument, as Aleck told us this morning that he could see by the cut of Hi's eye and the hungry look around his mouth that he meant business. The once privileged to be present at this spread, say that there were no errors made by the team; that they all stood up to the board and played a man's part.

Roy Reams, one of the Morristown baseball fans, was up to see his Club hand up the walloping on last Thursday. Mr. Reams said that Morristown had raised this week the sum of $800.00 and turned same over to Ott Riggs to finance the team down there. He stated that the citizens were awakening to the fact that Greenville was supporting their team in Royal shame, and that Morristown did not propose to be outdone. He assured us that the Morristown team were in the race to the finish. Mr. Reams is one of the Weesner-Reams Furniture Co., of Morristown, and one of their most progressive citizens. When a man who owns his money in the furniture game is willing to give some of it up to finance a ball team, he is a real fan. It is a bad lick to get the dollars in the afore-mentioned game; it is not like the auto business or some of these other soft snaps, that all you have to do is to get a building and gather in the coin; oh, Venus?

Greenville fans will have to content themselves without base ball until Thursday, July 29th, when we hook up with the league leaders—Elizabethton—for a three game series on the home lot. We predict that by that date the home fans will be so hungry for the game that we will have some record crowds whether our team wins or loses on the road. We are out to win, but we must see the games—the real test is in being a good loser.

The Dope sheet is not primarily intended to dabble into domestic difficulties, although we have been accused of starting some things in perfectly peaceful households. But after the raw deal that some of these apparently happily married dames have handed us, we will probably be forced to depart occasionally from the peaceful paths of baseball and wander into the storm tossed sea of local matrimonial mishaps, and see if we can get solace for our wounded feelings. We do not care so much for the slight handed us, as we have a means of redress, but there is poor Mr. Mullien, the best Secretary in the League—no, we did not say umpire—who has no come-back except by the Jesse James route, which he has been traveling so long that it has lost its kick. Yes, we are fond of Ocho, but will hardly propose the Damon stunt, to umpire in his stead, as we are still needed at home. Domus et placens uxor for me.

Our boys play ball like leaguers one day and like high school boys the next. What's the matter? We believe that when we get our six games per week, that our team will settle down and play the brand of ball they are capable of. We refuse to be cast down. If the team loses, it is all right. If we are not invited out, it is all right. Deep within us is implanted that love of the game that refuses to be quenched. Victory is so much sweeter when not expected. Come on out; do your part. We will win enough games to let the air of expectancy pervade the atmosphere of the game.

Eddie King says that the resolutions in regard to the banquet have been prepared, and that he is practicing on them nightly; that if his voice is in the usual trim, that his declamatory address will be a master piece of oracular eloquence that will set a high mark for the young Demosthenes of the town to shoot at for many a day. A tip to the fans: ident and introduction of new officers.

The closing address was delivered by Prof. D. S. Burleson.

Mrs. LeRoy Brown was heard in announcements regarding the work of Modern Health Crusade.

Singing—"God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

Closing prayer—Prof. Burleson.

CARRIE KNIPP, Sec.

Be on hands Thursday, July 29th when the above will come off, just as advertised. A special stand will be prepared right in front of the grandstand for the speaker, so that all may see as well as hear, what little Eddie will have to hand out.

The stage is all set for the six games per week which are to start next Monday. We expect the fans to patronize the three games per week, just the same as they have the two games per week. When the next games are played at home, we are going to have netting to keep the fans off the side lines. For the success of the game we must have better ground rules. We, for one, are in favor of having our games conducted in a high class manner and we know that the good people of the town are behind us. We predict you will see no more unseemly conduct on our grounds.
